1959 Triumph TR3A

In classic motoring, few cars blend spirited performance and timeless charm like the Triumph TR3A. With its sporty lines, robust engine, and engaging driving experience, the TR3A is a significant chapter in the history of the Triumph marque. The 1959 TR3A on offer today is a remarkable example of this iconic British roadster, boasting an odometer reading of just 15,868 miles and a rich history of careful stewardship and meticulous maintenance.

Historical Significance:

The Triumph TR3A was introduced in 1957. Known for its improved aerodynamics and distinctive "headlamp pods," the TR3A was an immediate success, offering a blend of performance and practicality that captivated enthusiasts worldwide. Renowned for its agility and performance, the TR3A played a crucial role in establishing Triumph as a significant player in the sports car market.

Specifications:

Engine: 1991 cc inline-four, overhead valve

Power Output: Approximately 100 bhp

Transmission: 4-speed manual

Suspension: Independent front suspension with coil springs, live rear axle with semi-elliptic springs

Brakes: Disc brakes at the front, drum brakes at the rear

Body Style: Two-door roadster

Additional Features: Dual Weber carburetors, upgraded larger radiator

Condition and History:

This particular TR3A has been the cherished possession of a dedicated owner for the past 11 years. Imported to Denmark from the United States in 2003, the vehicle has been meticulously cared for, evidenced by its passing Danish Technical Inspection in 2021 with 15,000 miles on the odometer and an earlier inspection in 2013 at 10,000 miles. The car will not require another inspection until 2029, providing peace of mind for its new owner.

Noteworthy upgrades include the installation of double Weber carburetors and a larger radiator, enhancing performance and reliability. The car was repainted a few years ago under the last ownership, with the current paint condition reflecting careful attention to detail.

Invoices totaling over 8,000 euros for engine and clutch rebuilds from 2015, 2017, and 2018 attest to the vehicle's rigorous maintenance and upkeep. A comprehensive inspection and service were recently completed, ensuring the car is in excellent mechanical and cosmetic condition.

The sale includes complete weather protection, ensuring the car is ready for enjoyment in any season.

This 1959 Triumph TR3A presents a unique opportunity to acquire a well-preserved and beautifully maintained example of one of Triumph's most celebrated sports cars. Don't miss your chance to own a piece of automotive history that combines elegance, performance, and timeless appeal.
